"Dr Stephen Jewett: Dear Sir,—I have used your Health Restoring Bitters in my practice and have found them very serviceable in Dyspepsia, Humors General Debility and particularly in Habitual Costiveness. I consider it one of the best remedies in use. Yours &c. IRA RUSSELL M D."

From one of the most eminent physicians in the State of New Hampshire.

TEMPLE, N H Jan 17 1849

Dr S Jewett: Dear Sir—I have examined your Pulmonary Elixir and am well satisfied that it merits the full confidence of the community, as being what it purports to be, a efficient and safe remedy for all the diseases to which the respiratory organs are subject. It may be used with much more safety than almost any other article offered for this purpose, inasmuch as the [illegible] prepared not of those origin, the frequent and fatal ultimate result of most other remedies, is in a great measure, by reason of their opiate character, is, by this, entirely obviated.

The physician who should meet with it would feel a confidence in its use, would find it a ready assistant by which the burden of his duty would be lightened, the responsibility of the medicine would be obviated, and his efforts for relief essentially aided.

With such consideration I prescribed it to my patients.

Dr Stephen Jewett: Sir—Having used your Health Restoring Bitters and Pulmonary Elixir, so a some desirable extent, I feel [illegible] the pleasure of bearing testimony as to the efficacy of the medicines. I would recommend the former for restoring loss of appetite, for headache, languor and general debility, the latter for coughs and sore throat.—In fact, I think it no family should be without them, as they are invaluable at hand to be frequently resorted to, when the necessity of calling in a physician may be avoided.

AGENCY FOR BUSINESS

With U. S. Patent Office

WASHINGTON

NO. 22 STATE STREET, BOSTON.

IN 1840 the subscriber was appointed by the Commissioner of Patents Agent of the U S Patent Office, in accordance with the 10th Sec of Act of 57.

Having relinquished the Agency for the transmission of Models and adopted a more expeditious mode of sending them to the Patent Office, where by a Patent may be procured about six weeks earlier he continues to forward them free of expense—to prepare Caveats, Specifications Assignments and all the necessary Papers and Drawings for Patents, and render advice on the subject and be studious to secure the same. Patents secured in Europe and other countries.

By application at this office, inventors are saved the time and expense of a journey to Washington and delay there, as well as all personal trouble in obtaining their patents. They also have the advantage of being explaining their inventions and of consulting in respect to them, matters, in general of paramount importance in order to obtain correct specifications and claims. The experience of sixteen years in practice, an extensive collection of rare works, decisions &c. on mechanical subjects the Patent Laws and patents of different countries, collected at much expense during the long time this office has been established together with accounts here kept of inventions patented at Washington, enable the subscriber to afford to inventors desirous of procuring Patents assistance and information which in other respects might be difficult of attainment.

R H EDDY, Solicitor of Patents.

WASHINGTON, JULY 21, 1849.—During the time I occupied the Office of Commissioner of Patents R H EDDY Esq., of Boston, did business at the Patent Office as Solicitor for procuring Patents. There were few, if any, persons acting in that capacity who had so much business before the Patent Office, and there were none who conducted it with more skill, fidelity and success. I regard R H EDDY as one of the best formed and most skilful Patent Solicitors in the United States, and have no hesitation in assuring inventors that they cannot employ a person more competent and trustworthy, and more capable of putting their applications in a form to secure for them early and favorable consideration at the Patent Office. Holden's Alterative and TONIC MIXTURE,

IS the best combination known for changing the unhealthy secretions of the Stomach, and giving strength to that organ, and for removing many diseases which are often attributed to impurity of the blood.

Its action is that of a mild Alterative and Tonic restoring health and strength often without producing any sensible evacuation, and without leaving behind any unpleasant effect on the constitution.

By its use the appetite becomes regular and good, digestion perfect sick head ache and many nervous disturbances growing out of imperfect digestion are generally cured persons of debilitated constitutions become healthy and strong by its use.

By reason of the sympathy between the stomach and the skin many diseases of the latter grow out of a morbid action of the former even when the ordinary symptoms of Dyspepsia are wanting and are cured by this medicine.

Many troubles of children, supposed to arise from worms are caused by a deranged state of the stomach and are removed by its use. Persons both adults and children left feeble by protracted illness on the same principle are restored to health and vigor by taking it.

It contains no poisonous ingredient, and cannot in any case do harm.

Home Testimony.

We, the undersigned have ourselves or in our families used Holden's Alterative and Tonic Mixture and are satisfied it is a very valuable preparation for the cases for which it is recommended.

HONEY! HONEY!!

BY BEES FED.

WHO ever supposed that the management of Bees and the making of Honey would be rendered a certain and profitable business? Yet it has been, and can now be done by all wishing to engage in the business.

A citizen of this State has invented a mode of treatment by which Bees can be managed without difficulty, and at an all expense hitherto made at the rate of from three to four hundred per cent per swarm each season. The right of adopting and using this mode has been secured by Letters Patent, and the subscriber has purchased that right for the County of Penobscot, and is now offering the same to others either by town or individual rights as may best suit purchasers and on such terms as bring it within the reach of all wishing to engage in it.

The advantages gained by this Patent are—

1st, A perfect command of the Bees and a large increase of the swarms, without the trouble of hiving.

2d A full security against the danger of robbing by neighboring Bees.

3d, The Honey is of a better quality and much more in quantity per swarm, than has ever been made by Bees managed in any other manner. This is done by feeding, as by that means the Bees not only rendered independent of flowers for his supplies but able to give his whole time to the work of making and storing the honey.

4th, The opportunity is afforded of taking the honey at any time without disturbing the Bees.

Lastly, It furnishes a fine opportunity for all profession men of small salary to make a good addition to their income, and to aged persons and persons of feeble health to support themselves independently and that to with little or no labor.

Wilder's Salamander Safes.

☞ The Following Letter from the Superintendent of the Maine Telegraph Company is another proof of the superiority of JOHN E WILDER'S Safe over all others.—

BANGOR, Oct 21, 1849

John E Wilder, Esq.—Dear Sir—The Safe I purchased of you was exposed to a great degree of heat at the burning of the Telegraph Office in this city. It was in the fire six hours, the books and papers were uninjured, and the damage to the Safe very slight, although it fell from the second story to the basement of the building. The little repairs necessary to the Safe have been made, and we shall not need to return it. It is still as good as new.

Respectfully yours, JAS EDDY

Insubordination.

We copied into our columns, a few days since, a statement that the people of Texas, through their representatives, were determined upon maintaining the boundary of that State including Santa Fe. We have also received a letter from a friend in Texas stating the conviction, in his mind, of the right of that State to insist upon the boundary, and that if it be not allowed, or a fair remuneration given for it, the people and authorities of Texas will test the practicability of secession from the Union; an issue, it may be remarked, not contemplated or provided for by the Constitution since that instrument is not a compact of States, but an agreement of the people of all the States for a Union.

Several of the Southern States have expressed their determination, in case of the expected contingency of Congress passing a law forbidding the extension of slavery over free territory, that they will resist the United States government, and pass laws affecting the commerce of the States, and attempt a secession from the Union.

A recent message of the Mayor of New-York speaks of the vast increase of crime in that city of almost every grade, and of the numbers of those left to roam the streets there without restraint, subject to sore temptations, and who early become corrupted and swell the criminal throng.

A similar statement was a few days since made in the message of the Mayor of Boston.

The records and proceedings of the Police and other courts all over the country startle the friends of order by the number of criminal cases which are brought up for trial.

It has been stated that almost every vessel which has touched at Rio on the passage to California has had some difficulty to be settled between the officers and others on board.

The Police officers in all our cities and large towns speak of the growing disorder of the times, and manifested in the conduct and habits of the boys in the streets.

School teachers mourn over the increasing difficulties in their professional labors in maintaining a quiet decorum in their schools.

Parents feel the pressure of new and strange difficulties in the training and management of their boys at home, even with those of quite tender years; while the transition from mere childhood to the boldness and independence of manhood, is effected seemingly at a single leap.

All these are evidences of the spirit of insubordination which is so rapidly and so deeply making its impress upon the American character.

Indeed, so strongly is the current of insubordination to law and restraint now running, that we have had an exhibition in our own county of its attempted organization to turn the law against itself under a charge of conspiracy against those who labor to have the laws restraining the sale of liquors, enforced!

In every department of society, from the chief magistrates of several of the States, down to the nursery rooms of the rich and the poor, there is a growing and even now rampant spirit of insubordination. And there are those who affect to see in all this a spirit of progress that is commendable, and who point somewhat scornfully to those who cannot cheer it forward and do not feel disposed to permit its extension, as old-grown-conservatives! We wonder not that there are men who sit moodily on the threshold of the future and dare not move forward, but there strive to awaken the people to an earnest lament of all that has died and all that seems about to die in the human mind, for in view of this onward rush in insubordination, and crime, and social decadence, there is a fragrance and a charm in the sober and law-observing past, which is not in the present, nor hardly promised in the future.

The modern idea of law seems to be that it is designed to force our will, instead of laying obligations upon our will, by its being the voice of society, in obedience to which voice alone, can society exist.

Mere force is all darkness and arbitrary, while law is all light, and possesses a moral essence. Law must at times make use of force as an instrument, while law itself is a principle which should bind the heart, since its anterior spring is, or should be, the authority of Jehovah.

The restless, earnest struggle between liberty and law in assuming the form of general insubordination, brings the conflict home to the fireside in the bosom of the domestic circle, and there it is now having its greatest and most terrible triumphs over paternal and maternal authority, advice and affection, trending them all in the dust that it may leap forward to its wild and wayward course without restraint and without guidance. It goes forth into the street and makes it infectious of bad sentiments, perverted principles and worse conduct. Crime festers upon the foremost with the insubordinate gang, while the school room and the playground become impregnated with its pestilential miasma. There is an action and reaction of sentiment like the electric current passing and repassing between this galvanic battery, in the household and then in the higher circles of society. This current affects every grade, and the sentiment of insubordination, as recently expressed by the Governor of Maryland, finds its true parallel in the turbulent boy who says to his widowed mother that he will do as he pleases. This insubordination is the prolific nursing mother of all the crimes which now disturb the peace of society, and seem destined to drive the community to the resort of sleeping, like besieged soldiers, with arms in their hands. We need not particularize further, since everywhere in our country are mournful and numerous instances illustrating our statements, so much so, indeed, that the present limits of our prisons are insufficient for the accommodation of offenders. Prisons as a remedy for crime, if they were ever intended for this purpose, move utterly fail under the rapidly accumulating multitudes sentenced to enter them.

Insubordination is the fearful evil, the threatening aspect, the dark cloud of our times.

The remedy for this and its attendant evils may well awaken the attention of every friend of our country and of our race. Those who are the depositories of authority, parents, and magistrates, and moralists, and all who have an influence upon public sentiment and public morals, need to be roused into active cooperation and to renewed efforts. Home must assert and maintain its laws, and first and chiefest among these must be that of regular and constant employment of time in labor, or study, or recreation—each hour must be occupied as a sacred, heaven-imposed obligation.

Measures must be taken by town and city authorities to lessen the number of idlers and pupils in the street school, by transferring them to schools of industry and learning, in all cases where the home influence is too weak or too corrupt to accomplish these objects. The administration of the law against offenders must be speedy and certain. Every motive which can influence the human mind and affect the heart must be put in requisition. Public opinion, enlightened, quickened, and boldly expressed, must set itself like an anvil against the onward flood of insubordination, and thus roll back the turbid waves which else will engulph our country and our hopes, in a common and terrible ruin, and the star of human progress set in the dark and dreary night of despair.

A GREEN SPOT IN THE DESERT.—Gov Crittenden, of Kentucky, in his Message to the Legislature, administers seasonable rebuke to the factious agitation in Congress on the dissolution of the Union. He closes it by saying that Kentucky is not insensible to the causes which have produced so much sensibility and irritation with her brethren of the Southern States, nor is she without her sympathies with them; but she does not permit herself to harbor one thought against the Union. She deprecates disunion as the greatest calamity; she can see no remedy in it—none, certainly, for any grievance as yet complained of or to be apprehended.

Kentucky will stand by and abide by the Union to the last, and she will hope that the same kind Providence that enabled our fathers to make it will enable us to preserve it. Our whole history has taught us a consoling confidence in that Providence.

The ceremonies of the installation of the officers of Essex Lodge of Free Masons, of Salem, Mass., took place at the Lyceum Hall on Monday evening. The attendance of members was large, and they were decorated with the symbols of the order. The hall was filled with invited friends; the ceremonies were new and novel to many present, as well as gratifying to the initiated. An address on the subject of Masonry was delivered by George G. Smith, Esq., of Boston; who stated in connection with masonic history, that the order was introduced into this country in 1720, and that the present Grand Lodge of Massachusetts was organized in 1792.

☞ A memorial of Mr. Sely has been presented to the Legislature, asking for compensation for the recovery of the jewels of the Princess of Orange, valued at a million of dollars, which were stolen some twenty years ago. The petitioner desires that a portion of the interest on the Dutch Loan be withheld, that Government having refused him compensation for three years services in recovering the jewels. He makes this application at the instance of Mr. Clayton. The memorial covers several hundred pages, and is a very curious narrative. The memorialist will probably be paid out of money due to Holland, unless that government in repose to save its credit.

☞ The Springfield Republican states that the U. S. Armory at that place, turns out fifteen hundred muskets per month, besides rapidly changing the flint lock muskets in the arsenals to percussion locks, and making a few carbines. The number of men employed there by Government is larger than at any previous period in the history of the establishment.

☞ There is to be a great railroad meeting in this city, on Wednesday the 23d inst., for the purpose of promoting subscriptions to the stock of the road between this city and Waterville. The subject will be ably discussed, and the reasons in favor of the enterprise fully unfolded. It will be an interesting meeting and should be well attended.

There is a man now living in the Danvers Almshouse, who is supposed to be 100 years old. He was in Burgoyne's army when it surrendered in 1777. He was a weaver by occupation, and at one time worked in the Beverly Cotton Factory, which was the first in this country.

☞ Samuel Appleton, Esq., recently made a donation of five hundred and fifty dollars to the Massachusetts Horticultural Society. Fifty of it was to be expended in the purchase of a copy of the Bible, for the Library.

The Pathfinder Railway Guide for January, has a map, giving a very good view of the rail roads in New England, and part of New York.

☞ Ex-Governor Pratt has been nominated by the Whig members of the Maryland Legislature, to fill the vacancy in the Senate of the United States.

☞ The Lewiston Journal says, that parents used to train up their children, but alas! "the times" are changed, and now children train up their parents.

☞ The concerns of the General Interest Bank, at Salem, are closed. The bills are therefore no longer redeemed at the Suffolk Bank.

☞ A memorial to the legislature for the repeal of the usury laws, is in circulation in Boston.

The sun is like God, sending strond life, beauty and happiness; and the stars like human souls, for all their glory comes from the sun.

Boston, Saturday noon, Jan. 12. 1850.

To the Editor of the Whig and Courier.

The week closing this day, is not very big with events, still there may be some topics of interest to yourselves, and your numerous readers. Such as I have give I unto you.—First of all, the Great and General Court assembled in the capitol last week. It is a fine body of men. They look grave and good. The business thus far accomplished, is not much.—They have heard their annual sermon, elected their presiding officers, and chaplains, and committees, have listened to the good message of our Governor, and are now prepared to go to work, finish their business, speedily (we hope) and go home. It appears that the 14 counties, and the 314 towns of the commonwealth, have elected and returned 294 members to the general court. Ninety towns are unrepresented.—Still there are some thirty more members in the house than last year. The Senate is full and of course there are 28 Senators.

The Governor's message is an able document, as every thing that comes from his pen is. It is thoroughly Whig in its sentiments, comprehensive and sensible. It appears by it, that the population of the State is now one million, and that we are now on the high road of prosperity.

The annual address of our excellent, and re-elected Mayor, Mr Bigelow, was also given this week. It is worthy of the city, and of the man. Mr B. estimates our population as 140,000, with as many more in the towns that immediately surround Boston, that truly belong to it, in most commercial, literary, and social respects; so that the population of the metropolis may be put down at 280,000, making Mr Webster's words good; that "one can look out upon as much business from the top of Bunker Hill Monument, as is carried on in the city of New York." Boston has gone ahead; and will go forward for the ten years to come, with greater strides than during any ten years before. And when that Railroad is put through from Waterville, to your good city, away in the "ends of the earth," then Boston will grow faster than ever, and Bangor too.

President Woods of your State, and of ours, gave an interesting lecture of an hour and a half, before the Mercantile Library Association, on Wednesday evening on the "Ancient Republics." He made them out to be far inferior to what they have generally been supposed to have been. He opposed in his views the idea of the poet Shelley, who asserted, that the Republics of Greece and Rome were better off without christianity, than nations are, that enjoy it. Dr Woods used no notes whatever, and he seems to be all the brighter and better, for having fixed in your glorious State of illimitable sea-coast, with its thousand islands, noble rivers and beautiful lakes, magnificent forests, rich soil, and intelligent people.

We have had good sleighing for ten days, but a powerful rain yesterday spoiled it.

The Parkman tragedy is beginning to be talked about anew. I should judge that the number who believe that Dr Webster to be innocent of the charge brought against him, to be increasing. Some go so far as to say, that the Grand Jury will not find a bill against him. It seems to be the most mysterious, and strange affair in all history. Murder will out, and we shall in this case, discover the murderer, or else, after all, Dr Parkman will suddenly make his appearance on change!

I have lately seen an egg and poultry story, that is said to have been perpetrated by the editors of the Bangor Whig and Courier, which beats all fish stories. I will not repeat it. It is making quite a sensation in these parts, especially among the crowers, and their wives.

Good bye Mr Editor, for this time. If any thing occurs of interest next week, you shall be posted up on the matters. In the mean time I wish you and your thousands of readers, yea all down east not excepting the New Brunswickers, and Nova Scotians, a happy New Year (as it not too late). Whether it belongs to the first, or last half of the 19th century, and above all I wish the Whig and Courier may live a thousand years. SPECTATOR.

ANECDOTE OF FRANKLIN.—Dr. Franklin and I (said Jefferson) were some time together in Paris, and we dined one day in a mixed company of distinguished French and American characters. The Abbe Raynal and Franklin had much conversation; amongst other things the French philosopher observed, that in America all things degenerated, and he made many learned and profound observations to show the effect of the climate on people, altho' recently from European stock.

Franklin listened with his usual patience and attention, and after the Abbe had finished, pleasantly remarked, that where a difference of opinion existed, it was the custom of deliberative assemblies to devide the house; he therefore proposed that the Europeans should go to one side of the room, and the Americans to the other, that the question might be fairly taken. It so happened that the Americans present were stout men, full of life, health, and vigor, the Europeans were small, meagre and dwarfish. The doctor, with a smile, cast his eyes along the lines, and Raynal candidly acknowledged the refutation of his theory.

THE LONG AND SHORT OF IT. At the recent ordination of Rev Mr Greely at Haverhill, N. H, the sermon by President Lord of Dartmouth College was an hour and a half long. The other exercises were very long, so that when the Charge to the People was about to be delivered, the audience very naturally gave unmistakable signs of weariness and impatience. The Charge had been assigned to the venerable Rev Dr Sutherland of Bath, a Scotchman by birth, whose brogue is familiar to many in that region. He arose and said with great deliberation, and in a broad Scoth accent, "Brothers and sisters of this church, and brothers and sisters of this congregation,—I am to give you a charge. I shall give you a charge which you will all of you always remember. Be of one mind, live in peace one with another. Amen." The rustle and thrill that ran through the audience as the speaker sat down, showed that his words were like much light concentrated into a flash, and that the shortest speech, if it answers its end, is long enough. Lowell Courier.

Women should be acquainted that no beauty has any charms but the inward one of the mind; and that a gracefulness in their manners is much more engaging than that of their person; that modesty and meekness are the true and lasting ornaments; for she that has these is qualified as she ought to be for the management of a family, for the education of children, for the affection of her husband, and submitting to a prudent way of living. These only are the charms that render wives amiable, and give them the best title to our respect.

THE FARMER'S CREED.—We believe in small farms and thorough cultivation.

We believe in large crops, which leave the land better than they found it.

We believe in going to the bottom of things, and therefore in deep ploughing.

We believe that the best fertilizer of the soil is the spirit of industry, enterprise, and intelligence; without this, lime, marl, plaster, bones, and green manures will be of little use.

Three burglars entered the house of Robert Rickets, at Rising Sun, Ind., a short time since, and carried off $938 in silver. They took the money from the sleeping apartment of Mr. R. who was awake at the time, but they threatened him with instant death in case he should make the least resistance. Two of the rascals have since been arrested in Cincinnati, and have told where the money was deposited; so it will probably be recovered.

DISCRETION. We copy the following from the Washington correspondent of New York Express, dated Jan. 8, taking his own capitals and italics:

'I lament to see in both Houses of Congress and particularly IN THE SENATE, to-day, A DETERMINATION TO BREAK UP THE UNION OF THESE STATES, WHICH IT IS USELESS TO DISGUISE, IS SETTLED AND SERIOUS. Events here in Washington, daily, compel a man to think of the dissolution of the Union, to ponder upon it as a fact, and to measure its consequences. It would be blindness not to see, that powerful men are bent upon a dissolution of the union of these States, in case certain things happen, which they have described. The people of the North ought to open their eyes to this fact, and must open their eyes to it. It is no mockery now, all that is heard. It is not all fulmination, but solemn earnest. That it should overawe Northern action I do not say, but that we should be aware of facts is certain.'

We have no doubt of a settled and serious determination on the part of a portion of the Southern members, and some two or three of the Northern ones, to dissolve the Union. We have seen enough for some time to convince us of this fact. But that any considerable portion of the people either North or South, really desire such a dissolution, is what we will not believe until we see the thing done. There are difficulties, too, in the way of dissolution which crowd themselves the more upon the mind as the subject is considered—difficulties which will come up in spite of them before the visions of the disunionists before they decide to denationalize themselves. The President has pledged himself to preserve the Union at any rate, with all the means in his power; suppose, for instance, South Carolina should attempt to secede, and half a dozen ships and frigates and sloops of war should be stationed off her coast to prevent a bale of cotton from going out, or a dollar's worth of foreign goods from going into Charleston; suppose the mails into that state should be interdicted, and the people thus cut off from all the benefits which they now receive directly from a connection with the Union.

This is supposing the mildest possible mode of bringing the people of South Carolina to their senses; and how long think ye, they would allow themselves to be thus isolated, and the trade by which they live cut off? Not one year—not one month even. Before this last named space of time had elapsed, they would clamor more loudly to get back into the Union than they did to get out of it. We are not sure but it would add to the perpetuity of the Union to let South Carolina try the experiment of nullification just for once. The impracticability of the thing would be demonstrated, we think, to her complete satisfaction.—Boston Mail.

TAKED AT LAST.—A cabman by the name of Lucius Harlow, was arrested yesterday, charged with robbing the Propeller, the bark Odd Fellow, brigs Elmira, Pennsylvania, schooner Geo. Brooks, &c.

These vessels have all been robbed recently in the night, and police officers have been on the alert for the thief. The roguery was discovered, however, in a curious way. Two spy glasses were exposed for sale, and a person saw them who knew one of them to belong to a captain, a friend of his—and knew it had been stolen. He immediately gave information, and the owner recognizing it, the sale of it was traced through two or three hands, till it reached this cabman. His chest was then found by Marshals Thompson and Husc, and in it were articles taken from all these vessels. The chest was found in the shop of Cha's. V. Caples.—One of the lost guns was found on Caples' shelf. The spy glasses were also traced thro' his hands.

Harlow was a perfect salt water rat, and carried on his depredations among the seamen extensively. The articles found were numerous (such as spy glasses, guns, shirts, log books, and other things,) and their identity fully established. A lot of silver spoons were also found, stolen from the John Marshall, with her name on them. Harlow and Caples were arrested, and are in jail, waiting examination today.—[Portland Adv.

WONDERFUL CURE.

Her blood was like water, could not speak, bled at the Lungs, severe pain in the Chest and about the Heart, raising in the Throat. Read the advertisement, and doubt if you can that Consumption is incurable.

NEW YORK, Dec. 14, 1847.

DR. S. P. TOWNSEND—Sir: Last New Year's Day, I received as a present two bottles of your Sarsaparilla; for four years previous to this I was very ill, and had not strength to be about the house. I applied a Physicians and could obtain no relief, and at the time I commenced taking your sarsaparilla, I had almost despaired of getting any better. The blood in my veins was like water. I bled very much at the lungs, I had severe pains in my chest and heart, and was troubled at times with something rising in my throat, so that it was impossible to speak. I discovered a change for the better in my health on taking one bottle of your Sarsaparilla, and in two weeks was able to be up about half an hour at a time, and persevered in taking your Sarsaparilla. In four weeks I was able to go about the house, and have been ever since remarkably strong, and attribute my recovery of my health entirely to your Sarsaparilla. If this statement will be the means of directing others similarly afflicted to your valuable Sarsaparilla, you are welcome to make it known.

Yours respectfully,

EMMA SUMNER, 70 Vandam Street.

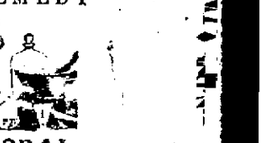
GREAT COUGH REMEDY



CHERRY PECTORAL

For the Cure of

COUGHS, COLDS, HOARSENESS, BRONCHITIS, CROUP, ASTHMA, WHOOPING-COUGH AND CONSUMPTION.

THIS truly valuable Remedy for all diseases of the Lungs and Throat has become the chief reliance of the afflicted as it is the most certain cure known for the above complaints. While it is a powerful sound expectorant in the most opposite and obstinate cases of Consumption, it is also, in diminished doses, one of the mildest and most agreeable family medicines for common coughs and colds.—Read below the opinion of men who are known to the world, and to whom experience has proved an eminent success in curing diseases of the throat and lungs."

REV. DR. OSGOOD

Writes—"That his cough or other being obliged to keep the room four months, with severe settled cough, accompanied by raising of blood, night sweats, and the attendant symptoms of Consumption, commenced the use of the 'Cherry Pectoral,' and had completely recovered; also that he considers 'Cherry Pectoral' the best remedy for pulmonary complaints ever given to the public."

DIRECT EVIDENCE.

Springfield, Nov. 27, 1848.

Dr. Ayer: Dear Sir—For two years preceding the 1st of November, 1847, I had been reduced very low with a very severe Cough, accompanied by spitting of blood and profuse night sweats. By the advice of my attending physician, I was induced to use your "Cherry Pectoral," and continued to do so until I consider myself cured, and ascribe the effect to your preparation. JAMES RANDALL

At the office of Rev. Geo. Ashmun, Com. Cong., Springfield, Mass

DR. PERKINS, President Vermont Medical College.

One of the most learned and intelligent physicians in the country, considers it a "composition of rare excellence for the cure of that formidable disease, Consumption."

The Canadian Journal of Medical Science States that, "the prevailing Asthma of this inclement climate has yielded with surprising rapidity to Ayer's Cherry Pectoral, and we cannot too strongly recommend it as a valuable preparation to the Profession and public generally."

From the "LONDON LANCET."

"Ayer's Cherry Pectoral is one of the most truly valuable preparations that has fallen under our notice. After a careful examination, we do not hesitate to say we have a large appreciation of its virtues and the fullest confidence in its usefulness for coughs and lung complaints."

Prepared by J. C. AYER, Chemist, Lowell, Mass.

PERFECT HEALTH,

A LIFE SAVED.

Most Wonderful Cure of a man 80 years of age.

In the month of November, 1846, I was attacked with inflammation in my great toe, which soon broke out in a raging sore. Mortification ensued and the left joint of my toe came off. At this time I was under the care of the most physician in the country—every remedy had been tried but without any help. The aging of my foot produced no one can imagine the distress I was in, my leg to my thigh, and had become so bad that a physician despaired of ever being able to cure me, and after four months confinement to my bed, finally told me I must prepare to die—that at my time of age, and with the other ailments I had, my death was near. I gave up in despair. One of my friends brought me a bottle of HUNT'S LINIMENT, which he said would relieve the pain. I applied it and the effect was wonderful, it deemed as if new life was put into me. In large red bottle blisters made its appearance of my leg, changed to its natural color the pain left me, and in two 50 cent bottles entirely cured me, to the astonishment of myself and the whole neighborhood. Hunt's Liniment saved my life. I am 80 years of age, and was the oldest man in the public, that every human being may know the value of this great medicine.

Extraordinary case of Hip and Spinal Disease

SOMERset WESTCHESTER Co, N Y, Aug 27, 1849

Gent—It is with sincere pleasure that I make known to you the great benefit I have derived from the use of Hunt's Liniment. About 10 months ago I was injured by a horse, in the HIP and SPINE so badly that I could not move without the aid of Crutches.

I grew gradually worse for I on Years, although under the care of two successful Physicians who tried every thing in their skill to relieve me. My Hip gathered and broke and continued a running sore, and I was suffering with such severe pain that I could not rest or sleep. At this stage of the disease I commenced using Hunt's Liniment, which at once gave me relief. I use it about 20 Bottles, during the past year, the sore entirely healed, I am free from pain, and only use a cane in walking. I think the use of Hunt's Liniment saved my Life and was well worth my weight in gold to me. My whole neighborhood are testifying as to my sufferings and the cure.

Yours truly,

BARNABUS BEADLE

Formerly Fairfield County, Conn.

Sir—The Hunt's Liniment has cured my child of fits, it has been followed with great success in SPINAL complaints. A negro boy of mine was completely disabled from my use in the back, and the use of a few bottles of Hunt's Liniment completely cured him, he is now in human health, this is only one of many cases, that have been cured in this neighborhood.

Yours &c.,

N. S. DORNIN

Bridgeport, Conn, August, 1849

Dear Sir—Perhaps I can inform you of the history of a gill of Hunt's Liniment you kindly gave me. I have had no other use for it, to quote the old adage, than to find much use. It has been lent and returned from one neighbor to another, till it has travelled quite a circuit. It has proved a panacea for all ills that flesh is heir to, and I know of no other medicine so universally useful. I have used it in my family for Rheumatism, Sore Throat, Bruises, Burns, Scalds, Chilblains, Piles, Toothache, Earache, Sore Breast, Sore Nipples, Sore Eyes, Sore Feet, Sore Legs, Sore Backs, Sore Heads, Sore Throats, Sore Lungs, Sore Hearts, Sore Souls, Sore Everything, Sore Nothing, Sore Everybody, Sore Nobody, Sore Everywhere, Sore Nowhere, Sore Anywhere, Sore Somewhere, Sore Sometimes, Sore Always, Sore Never, Sore Forever, Sore Sometimes, Sore Always, Sore Never, Sore Forever, Sore Sometimes, Sore Always, Sore Never, Sore Forever
